We think it's really important that stories are set in a place or time and that by including descriptions of these you can add lots more to your story and keep your reader interested. It's a fun and interesting way to add detail and you can have as much fun as you like. You're only limited by your imagination!

We know that asking questions helps unlock your imagination. Look at the picture above and think of all of the questions you have about this image. You could write them down if you like. Try to start your questions with lots of different question words like; Who? What? When? Where? Why? How? Could? Would? and any others you can think of. For example - Who lives here? Where is this?

- Now try to think of answers to all of your questions. Write, draw or talk about them.
- Finally try to tell someone else all about this setting in sentences without them seeing the picture, you could say them or write them - remember to use lots of describing words to help paint a picture with words for them.
- Story Ninja Challenge: Design your own settings and use this activity with your own ideas.

As always share your stories and ideas with us via facebook, twitter or email Story Ninja at atomsvonni@gmail.com and your story could end up on our website and social media and you never know your story could help us to make more activities.
